

Level 4 Advice and Guidance

Expert accredited training

This training is ideal for anyone working in employability, education and training, housing and specific advice and guidance roles. We are an approved City & Guilds assessment centre with experienced advice and guidance assessors and internal verifiers.

We offer a flexible delivery model to combine technology with traditional assessment methods such as assignments, observations and professional discussions, to continue to upskill and empower candidates.

Customised and flexible approach

The qualifications allow you to design your own training programme, carefully tailored to your needs and setting. Your training can fit around you; we offer start dates throughout the year and you work at your own pace, with guided and tailored support from your tutor.

Build your own accredited course from such units as:

- » Prepare clients through advice and guidance for the implementation of a course of action
- » Design information materials for use in the service
- » Enable advice and guidance clients to access referral opportunities.
- » Liaise with other services
- » Facilitate learning in groups

Additional information:

- » The course can be delivered face to face, or by Microsoft Teams
- » Workshops in place delivered by industry experts
- » Multiple start dates throughout the year
- » Course cost – £1750 + vat
