

L4 Career Information and Advice Qualification

As an accredited OCR Centre, we are delighted to offer the L4 Career Information and Advice Qualification. This specialist training course is delivered by highly qualified expert staff, who support and guide learners throughout their qualification.

The qualification takes a blended delivery approach combining technology, traditional assessment methods such as assignments, professional discussion and individual research tasks.

Our course includes the following units:

- » Source, evaluate and use Labour Market Information (LMI) with clients
- » » Promote career-related learning to clients
- » » Use digital technology in the career development sector
- » » Engage with other relevant people to help clients to meet their career development needs
- » » Career choice theories and concepts to support clients

We take a tailored and flexible approach which includes a dedicated assessor and a series of workshops throughout the course.

We also offer a customisable suite of qualifications that allow you to design your own training programme, which is bespoke to your individual needs and setting. The training is flexible and can fit around your role. There is an option to study individual units also.

Additional information:

- » The course can be delivered face to face, or by Microsoft Teams
- » Workshops in place delivered by industry experts
- » Multiple start dates throughout the year
- » Course cost – £1850 + vat
